WISCONSIN LAWYERS

EXPERT ADVISERS.
SERVING YOU.

The State of Our Union: It is an old saying but it rings true at the passing of every year - boy how time flies. The purpose of this edition of LawClips is to provide a brief overview of happenings at our firm in 2005.

Attorney Evan Y. Lin has become a shareholder. Attorney Lin's practice areas include estate planning, probate, business and corporate development and real estate.

Kathryn Reinhard

Attorney Kathryn M. Reinhard joins the firm as an associate. Attorney Reinhard concentrates in the areas of immigration law; real estate; family law and general litigation. Visit the Attorney section of our website for more information on attorney Reinhard.

To the Wisconsin Supreme Court: Attorneys Robert J. Janssen and Timothy A. Hawley represented a young man who was in an automobile accident with a drunk driver. The case presented a unique issue related to underinsured motorist coverage. After winding its way through the Brown County Circuit Court and the Court of Appeals, the Wisconsin Supreme Court accepted review of the case. Oral arguments were conducted on December 1, 2005. Stay tuned for a separate edition of LawClips, which will provide a "behind the scenes" look at this case.

Timothy A. Hawley

Attorney Mark A. Bartels, represented Martin's College of Cosmetology on its recent acquisition by Regis Corporation (NYSE: RGS), a leader in the $150 billion hair care industry. Attorney Bartels acted as the legal advisor, assisted in the negotiations for the shareholders of Martin's College of Cosmetology and drafted the acquisition documents. Bartels believes Martin's will provide Regis with a growing presence in the Midwest and utilize Martin's industry leading information management technology as a foundation for its rapidly expanding training business.
